What Is the Delivering the Dough Card?

The Domino's Delivering the Dough Card is redeemable discount card the purchaser can use on a variety of offers throughout the year, with the purchase of a pizza at menu prices.

Cards have an expiration date of at least 6 to 12 months.

The card is good for pick up or delivery orders, as long as the minimum order amount required for delivery is met.

Check with your local Domino's Pizza store to ensure they will accept the card.

Customers may use any coupon on their card, but only one coupon may be used per order.

There are 10 coupons on the card.

The customer will save anywhere from $2.49 to $6.99 every time they use the card. In other words, the total discount ranges from $24.99 to $69.99.

How Does It Work?

Band members purchase the Delivering the Dough card from the Student Fund Raising Team for $1.00

Band members sell the Delivering the Dough card to your friends, family, and neighbors for $10.00 each. Friends, Neighbors etc. use the card and receive discounts when purchasing food from the local Domino's Pizza store.

Band members keep the profit of $9.00 per card sold.
